Stacy's Story

The idea behind diners was to provide everyone with a solid and affordable meal.

The history of the yellow bus

The yellow bus is from 1993 and started as a school bus in California where it has driven thousands of school aged children to and from school.

A Polish American living in California was set to return to Poland, more specifically Gdansk. He was dreaming of using the yellow school bus for special events, thus, he imported the bus upon his return. After some years, he put the bus up for sale coinciding with us getting the crazy idea of finding a yellow school bus and splitting it in two. The bus begins its journey from Gdansk to Denmark, driving for 2 days.

This explains its Polish license plate and emergency signs.

Finally being on Danish soil, the preparations for splitting it in two, transforming it and attaching it to our building can begin. The project grows bigger than anticipated. The easy part was saying:

“Let's just take a yellow school bus, split it in 2 and attach it to our building – how hard can that be?” Quote: Linné Sommer.

“You are nuts, that is not possible!” Quote Martin Sommer.

But of course you can! And after 1.000 hours of hard work and many sleepless nights, the bus was a part of the building.

Who would have thought that the yellow school bus which started its days on the highway in California in 1993, followed by being an event bus in Poland, would become a part of Denmark's most amazing diner, or maybe we should say 2 parts.

Welcome to a world where crazy ideas become a reality.

History of Route 66

Route 66 was the first and biggest highway through 8 states in America.

It served as a primary route for those who migrated west, but also as a means of commuting to and from work. Thus, it was the ideal location for diners as the route supported the hard working and hungry population in need of a solid, affordable meal.

Despite bigger and better highways and freeways since then, route 66 remains and is a symbol of a united America, with lots of diners, worth a visit.
